

josh 6 Display: Ready, set, go! it Consult is on the road to launch its new product

In collaboration with its partners, it Consult has organized a set of workshops in 6 different cities to launch the new version of josh.

Urbino, February 17, 2014 – josh 6 Display is the series of events that it Consult has organized to illustrate the new, revolutionary functions of the josh platform, just released in version 6.

There will be a preview presentation of the new release of the Organization Intelligence, Business Process and Document Management Platform produced by it Consult to a selected group of clients in 6 different cities: Treviso (February 20), Bolzano (February 21), Roma (February 27), Milano (march 4), Torino (March 6), Parma (March 7).

The events are organized in collaboration with several josh Certified Partners who distribute and support the platform: DoitSoft, Microsys, NttAgic, Systems, Var It.

After an introduction on process automation with an analysis of the organizational advantages and practical benefits for users, each session will be centered on a practical demonstration of josh in order to illustrate its powerful and innovative functions, with the active participation of the guests.
