
it Consult presents Electronic Invoicing for the PA with josh and josh Archive!

Far in advance of the June 6th deadline, it Consult presents the vertical organizational tool to automate the electronic invoice flow towards Public Administrations

Urbino, April 2, 2014 – June 6th, 2014 is the deadline by which any organization that issues invoices to the Central Public Administration (Local PAs soon to follow), must do so digitally through an exchange protocol which allows the invoices to be sent electronically.

In response to this need, it Consult, Italian leader in software platforms for document management, process automation, substitutive registration and filing, promptly presents the vertical organizational tool that automates electronic invoice flow to Public Administrations using the josh and josh Archive! platform.

The system can be completely integrated with the various management and ERP systems; it allows simple, automatic collection of the invoice flow and handles the transfer process toward the recipient PAs, simultaneously managing the substitutive conservation, as required by law.
