

Knowledge Box Spring 2013: The it Consult convention on Organization Intelligence will be held in Rome

The 2013 Spring Edition of the traditional national convention on Knowledge, Business Process and Enterprise Content Management organized by it Consult will be held in Rome on May 9th.

Urbino, April 29, 2013 – Next May 9th, Knowledge Box Spring 2013, the eleventh Spring edition of the national convention on Organization Intelligence will be held at the offices of Microsoft in Rome, Italy.

The convention, organized by it Consult, leader in Italy with their josh package for Organization intelligence software solutions, will deal in depth with methods and technologies for Knowledge, Business Process and Enterprise Content Management.

Corporate collaboration, content management, process and knowledge management, document archiving and dematerialisation are only some of the topics “of the moment” which will be discussed during the day.

The program of the event ranges from the digital agenda of the President of the Council of Ministers (Department for the digitalization of the PA) to case studies, like that of the Ministry of Economic Development. The speakers will cover aspects regarding methods and the integrated approach to Organization Intelligence, and how the technologies in question can create value within companies and organizations, demonstrating that they can provide the best practices and guide lines for the operational realization of projects.

The convention will conclude with a round table discussion with the participation of Microsoft, the Italian General Staff of Defence, Selda informatica, Agic Technology and the Italian Ministry of Economic Development.

The event is organized by it Consult in collaboration with Microsoft; participation in the convention is free of charge, however registration is required by completing the registration form, available on-line at www.itconsult.it.
