

it Consult launches the new multi-language version of the company web site

it Consult has updated and expanded the multi-language functions of the company web site based on Microsoft SharePoint

Urbino, June 10, 2013 – it Consult, leader in Italy in Microsoft SharePoint based software platforms for Organization Intelligence and the areas of Knowledge, Business Process, Workflow and Document Management, has launched a new English version of the company web site.

The it Consult web site is based on Microsoft SharePoint and has been created to provide valuable support to anyone interested in Organization Intelligence and Knowledge Management; it combines an ample list of documents and informational material of a methodological and academic nature, not so much linked to the product as to the value of knowledge.

“The updating of the international version of the web site is fundamental in responding to the needs of our foreign clients and for sustaining their development already starting in 2013” states Giovanni Marrè, Managing Director of it Consult. “However, it will also be useful for our multinational clients in Italy who frequently have administrative centers and/or personnel abroad”.

it Consult

it Consult (www.itconsult.it), is the main supplier in Italy of solutions for Organization Intelligence. It provides design and development services for integrated software solutions as well as consulting in specific fields like Business Process, Knowledge, Enterprise Content and Document Management to medium and large enterprise organizations as well as Central and Local Public Administrations. it Consult products cover a broad range of markets.

For more information, contact:

it Consult Press Office

Patrizia PeitasCorporate Communication – ppeitas@itconsult.it

it Consult srl
via Metauro, 11
61033 Fermignano (PU)
Tel. 0722 332929
Fax. 0722 332930
www.itconsult.it
e-mail: itc@itconsult.it